We have filled positions at salaries aggregating more than $3,200,000.00.

In 1888—$40.

In 1892—$25.

In 1894---$20.

This is for a solid white oak frame, cut quartered grain, with finest finish, all hair, full stuffed cushions in seat and back, latest fashionable empire corduroy covering. To upholster these chairs in part moss is wholly impracticable. $20 is the lowest price with all hair upholstery.

The price is just half the retail price of 1888, and $5 less than we charged in 1892.

Remember this is a largest size Morris Chair, with 4 separate adjustments to the back, making a Reading Chair, Smoking Chair, Reclining Chair and Sleeping Chair.

We build it this year with very broad arms and a deep seat for extreme comfort.

New General Catalogue, square octavo, 288 pp., 300 illustrations. Sent to any address on receipt of five 2-cent stamps.

A NOTABLE BOOK.

The Witness to Immortality, in Literature, Philosophy, and Life.

By Rev. Dr. George A. Gordon, of the Old South Church, Boston, 12 mo, $1.50.

Dr. Gordon has written a volume which establishes him as one of the thinkers who have made permanent and important contributions to human understanding of this life and of the life to come. . . . It deals with one of the most grand and solemn themes in a masterly and truly helpful manner.—The Congregationalist, Boston.

It cites intelligently the opinions of philosophers and the voices of the poets, and constructs a forcible argument for continued existence after death. It is well written, and shows thorough mastery of the subject.—New York Christian Intelligencer.

Among recent writings on this subject Dr. Gordon's book easily takes a leading place. . . . The author brings to his task a mind richly stored with learning and endowed with exceptional insight into the deeper meaning of great moral facts and truths.—Rev. Dr. Moxom, in Boston Watchman.

The book is a most interesting study of one of the deepest problems of existence.—New York Observer.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO., BOSTON.

A Manual of Practical Sociology.

An Introduction to the Study of DEPENDENT, DEFECTIVE and DELINQUENT CLASSES. By Charles R. Henderson, D.D., of the University of Chicago.

In a field too vast for any one mind to master, this book offers a systematic and reasoned collection of the results of studies and experiences of authorities. The author has had twenty years of almost daily practical experience with the classes to which the book refers, in his work as pastor, and as director of parish, institutional and governmental agencies.

Charles D. Kellogg, Secretary of "Charity Organization Society," New York City, writes: "It is the most logical and systematic treatment of the subjects discussed that I have seen, and the book is analyzed in such a way as to make it easy of study. It will be an immensely useful book, and I hope to have many of our workers supplied with it."

"The Review of Reviews," New York: "We do not know of any other American book which covers in an abler or more thorough manner the particular field to which this one is devoted."

Cloth, 287 pages, $1.50.

OTHER BOOKS OF INTEREST TO EVERY CITIZEN.

Public Opinion Current Topic Association.

"Study Current Events in the Light of History."

THE OBJECT of the Public Opinion Current Topic Association is to promote the systematic study of the great questions of the day, and by increasing the interest in current happenings, to inculcate a broader view of the privileges and duties of citizenship.

THE PLAN embodies the formation of clubs, with general details similar to those suggested in the book mentioned below, whose basis of work shall be the systematic reading of Public Opinion and other periodical publications and the further inquiry stimulated by such reading. Debates and special papers are optional.

THE DETAILS are fully outlined in an elaborate thirty-two page book which will be sent to any address for six cents in stamps.

In his Introductory Preface, Dr. Wm. T. Harris, U. S. Commissioner of Education, says:

"I am a constant reader of Public Opinion, and find it eminently adapted to the place of a text-book for classes in current topics in schools and colleges. I have frequent occasion to admire the skill with which the editors collect and present phases of thought and opinion. Public Opinion re-edits the editorials of the press of the world in such a way as to furnish the reading public with exactly what I have described as the ideal object of the newspaper. In view of all these facts I heartily commend the Public Opinion Current Topic Association to thoughtful people everywhere."

Cardinal Gibbons says:

"I cordially approve of your project. Nihil humanum a me alienum puto, was the noble expression of a great Roman. Rome's greatness was largely due to the interest of her statesmen in public affairs. Our country will also gain in power and progress in proportion as her most cultivated citizens will discuss and lead public opinion."
